Cadets March On Army Day

Military Equipment,
Work Of Units
Shown In Armory

More than 1000 cadets of the ROTC marched in review Monday afternoon in a campus pre-Army Day celebration and heard a high-ranking military officer assert that "we now realize that the peace for which we fought two great wars has not yet been won."

The first formal review of the year by the University cadet regiment, commanded by Cadet Col. Glenn Weatherhead of Fulton, and the military band climaxed the first part of a special program in connection with Army Day. A second phase of the program was an "open house" in the Armory at which military equipment and the work of the ROTC units was displayed for the benefit of the public and Lexington Boy Scouts, who were special guests.

Highlighting the afternoon review were three presentation ceremonies. Cadet Pvt. Jimmy Allen, Lexington, who recently made the highest individual score in the 1948 national ROTC rifle competition was awarded a gold wrist watch and a gold-buckle belt. Twenty-two Regular Army members of the ROTC staff were presented with citations of honorable war service and medals for World War II service were awarded to 42 war-veteran members of the ROTC corps.

The review of the regiment was taken by Dr. Leo M. Chamberlain, vice president, Col. Don E. Carleton, executive officer of the Kentucky Military District, Col. G. T. McKenzie, commander of the University military training program, Maj. Donald W. Glend, ROTC headquarters adjutant, and Cadet Pvt. Alvey, Company 4 was the honor company among the eight ROTC companies participating in the review, having been designated as a result of winning a drill competition last Spring.

In the principal talk of the U.K. pre-Army Day celebration, Col. Carleton told the cadets that "never before in history has our country been in greater need of young men like yourselves."

Without the officers "trained by the ROTC units of the University of Kentucky, along with other universities and colleges throughout the land, World War II could not have been won," he declared. "A total of 7,844 men and women from this university served in the last war in ranks from private to Major General and 332 did not come back."

"It is equally true that without the continued efforts of men like yourselves, in these same universities and colleges, our country will not be able to develop and maintain the leadership necessary to withstand the forces that seek to destroy our freedom," the Colonel asserted.

Carnival Is Here

A carnival, complete with rides and side-shows, is being held at the American Legion Fairgrounds under the sponsorship of Alpha Xi Delta sorority.

Half of the proceeds of the affair will go to the YMCA building fund, and the rest to the sorority. The show is open from 6 to 12 p.m. and will end on Saturday.

Chi Delta Phi Accepting Stories

Women wanting to be considered for membership in Chi Delta Phi must submit manuscripts from which their qualifications will be judged, to Dean Haselden before Thursday.

'Typewriter Cowboy' Returns After A Year In California

By E. P. Schroeter

Our "rootin', tootin'" typewriter cowboy is back with us after an eleven months' stay in and around Los Angeles.

James A. Hines, the self-styled "product of Kentucky soil" a sophomore in the College of Arts and Sciences, is earning literary laurels for himself, (not to mention several yards of that "long green with a short future" money), by writing short stories for various "western" magazines.

It was Hines' intention to go into Alaska to become a homesteader and devote more time to writing. But his friend and former Boy Scout Executive of the South, W. L. Sprouse, who planned to go with him, was unable to make the trip because of ill health.

"Not knowing enough about the dangers which exist in the uninhabited areas of Alaska, I hesitated to make the trip alone, and finally abandoned the idea altogether," Hines explained.

Upon further questioning about his experiences in California, Hines told about an offer he had from Republic Pictures, as a script writer.

"I was hitching a ride to Santa Monica last June when one of those

SUB Members To Be Picked Next Tuesday

Student Union Board members for next year will be chosen Tuesday in a student election, Ellen Wood, president of the board, announced this week.

Four men and five women will be elected from a list of eight men and ten women nominated by the present board for outstanding work on the seven SUB committees.

Polls will be open from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. in the Y Lounge of the Union, Miss Wood said.

Candidates are Judy Broadbush, Louise Constantine, Lois Ann Fiege, Sara Mae Greene, Alva Matherly, Mary Sue McWhirter, Suzanne Rogers, Nancy Shinnick, Betty Ann Shropshire, Frances White, Bob Biedt, Bob Compton, David Hatchett, Billy Harrod, John Owens, Tom Underwood, Charles Whaley, and Charles Wurst.

Board members seeking re-election are Broadbush, Shropshire, White, Biedt, Compton, Underwood, and Whaley.

The board is the governing body of the building. It forms all policies of the Union, serving primarily as a director of student recreation.

All board members are required to have a 1.5 standing and a junior classification by the beginning of the Fall semester.

Kuiper Heads Music Group

John Bennett Kuiper has been elected president of Alpha Gamma Chapter of Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia, national music fraternity. He is the son of Dr. and Mrs. John Kuiper and succeeds Jack Feilerabend.

William McKenney, Arts and Sciences junior, succeeds Robert Biedt as vice president. Wyatt Insko was elected secretary, succeeding David Lewis Harris. Cornelius Von Boyer succeeds Forrest Schenk as treasurer. John W. Tully was elected historian to succeed Charles R. Barker. William K. Hubbell was named national councilman.

Noted Bacteriologist To Lecture Here

Dr. Rene J. Dubos of the Rockefeller Institute for Medical Research, will lecture on "The White Plague" before the Bacteriological Society and the University chapter of the Society of Sigma Xi at 8 p.m. Tuesday in Room 200 of the Biological Sciences building.

In the lecture he will present the results of his research in tuberculosis and the accomplishments and hopes of medical researchers in the field.

Dr. Dubos will also speak on the "Nutritional Factors Affecting the Multiplication of Tubercle Bacilli in Vitro and in Vivo," to the graduate seminar of the Bacteriology Department.

Both lectures will be open to the public.

A native of Saint-Brice, France, Dr. Dubos received the John Phillips Memorial Award from the American College of Physicians and the Meade Johnson Award from the American Academy of Pediatrics.

The University is one of 12 institutions of higher learning at which Dr. Dubos will lecture during April.

Wildcats To Be Dinner Guests Of Alumni

The victorious University basketball squad and coaches will be the guests of the Alumni Association at a banquet to be held at 8:15 Saturday night in the Student Union Ballroom.

The banquet is an annual affair and all 350 places have been sold. Miss Helen Kling, executive secretary of the association, announced.

Leroy Miles, president of the Alumni Association, will be the toastmaster and Dr. Maurice P. Seay, dean of the University, will extend greetings from the University administration.

The program will be highlighted by a roundtable discussion of the inside dope and the personalities of the Wildcats and their successful basketball season by eight sports writers and announcers. Roy Steinfort, athletic publicity director, will serve as chairman of the roundtable.

Coach Adolph Rupp will present a review of the season and Captain Kenny Rollins will give his viewpoint of the season.

Athletic Director Bernie Shively will announce the basketball letterman for the season and will present watches to the five seniors on the squad. Kenny Rollins, Dutch Campbell, Joe Holland, Jack Parkinson, and Jim Jordan.

Must Register Now
All seniors who will be graduated in August are requested by the registrar's office to apply for degrees immediately.

Installation of officers is scheduled for May 1.

Harold Holtzclaw

Holtzclaw Is Chosen New YM President

Harold Holtzclaw, a political science junior from Morehead, has been elected president of the University YMCA for the 1948-49 year.

Other officers are Jameson Jones, vice president, Luther Hilliard, treasurer, and Ed Carter, secretary. Elected to the Advisory Board were Dr. Ralph Cherry, Dr. Carl Clark, Dr. Alexander Edelman, Prof. William L. Matthews, Eugene Deskins, Allen Wills, and Robert Beaver.

Installation of officers is scheduled for May 1.

Veterans' Regulations Given For Full Load Requirements

Veterans who drop courses and thereby bring their schedule load below the required minimum are not entitled to receive full subsistence under the G.I. Bill. It was announced by the Veterans office. The minimum load for undergraduates is 12 quarter hours, and nine hours for graduate students.

A number of veterans apparently enrolled for a full schedule and later dropped a course in order to lighten their schedule but still obtain full subsistence.

Veterans who drop courses are not entitled to the books for those courses. They must be returned to the book store immediately, it was announced.

Effective yesterday, single veterans carrying a full schedule will receive $75. Veterans with one dependent will receive $75. Veterans with two or more dependents will receive $120.

Undergraduate students carrying nine, ten or eleven hours, and graduate students carrying seven or eight hours will receive $48.75 and $65.50 with dependents.

Undergraduate students carrying six, seven or eight hours, and graduate students carrying five or six hours will receive $32.50 and $45.00 with dependents.

The minimum number of hours a part-time veteran student may carry is from three to five hours for undergraduate students and three or four hours for graduate students. They will receive $16.25 and $22.50 with dependents.

Veterans will receive, with their

Fire Danger Recurs; White Hall Ignites

University officials this week urged students not to smoke in campus buildings and to be sure cigarettes are extinguished before being discarded.

The Comptroller's office said considerable damage was caused in White Hall last week when an ignited cigarette was tossed into a well and set fire to leaves and trash which set fire to part of the building.

March subsistence checks, due in April, an explanation of the provisions of Public Law 411 which increases subsistence allowances to certain groups of trainees.

The message will explain that eligible veterans who are entitled to $75 or $105 under the new rates will not have to apply for the increased allowances. Existing applications will supply all the information needed to pay the new benefits.

These veterans need not write VA, since their increases will be paid automatically.

The note will include instructions to veteran-trainees entitled to $120 because they have more than one dependent. It will direct them to submit the information about their additional dependents, needed before payments at the new rates can be made.

ODK-Kentuckian Beauty Will Be Announced Tomorrow

Kyian To Accept Deposits Wednesday

Remainder of Kentuckian deposits will be taken beginning 1:30 p.m. Wednesday in the Kentuckian office, sub-basement of McVey Hall, according to Amy Price, business manager.

All Kentuckian copies have been sold and only those wishing to pay the remainder of their subscriptions should apply at the office. This announcement does not include seniors who have already reserved copies through their senior fees.

Library Given $1000 Grant

A grant of $1,000 has been presented to the Library Science department for the purpose of offering a concentrated workshop course for beginning librarians during the summer semester. Academic credit will be given for the course.

Miss Ruth Buchanan, who holds degrees from Shorter College, George Peabody College for Teachers, and Columbia University will be the director of the course. She will be assisted by Miss Louise Golloway, Miss Azie Wofford, and other members of the Library Science staff.

The grant provides for a limited number of scholarships of $50 each. The course will be offered from June 21 to July 10. Applications for scholarships should be directed at an early date to Dr. Robert H. Deily, Department of Library Science.

The grant was made by the General Board of Education, an organization for aiding education throughout the United States. Much of its funds go to the southern states.

Wills Elected Council Head

Allen Wills, Education College junior, was elected president of the Interfraternity Council Saturday.

Other officers elected for the Fall term include Virginia Henry, vice president, Betty Strunk, secretary, and Bob Tychart, treasurer.

The YWCA and YMCA were hosts for the meeting and plans for Freshman Week next Fall were discussed.

Hall Named Frat President

Joe Hall has been elected president of Alpha Phi Omega national service fraternity.

Other officers elected included Paul Cunningham, vice president, Reg Montgomery, secretary, Martin Swanson, treasurer, Wilfred Lott, corresponding secretary, Joe Craig, historian, Robert Stewart, alumni secretary, Tommy Poe, chaplain, and Joel Unglerider, sergeant-at-arms.

Pharmacy College Applications Open

All students who wish to be considered for admission to the College of Pharmacy in the fall semester should apply in the Admissions Office in the Administration Building, Miss Maple Moore, assistant registrar, announced Thursday.

The applications should be completed during the week of April 12-17.

Sociologists To Meet

Mrs. Lydia Flannery will lead a group discussion on Pitirim A. Sorokin's recent book, "The Reconstruction of Humanity," as the Sociology Club's first meeting of the quarter at 7:30 Thursday night at the home of Dr. Irwin T. Sanders, 107 Shady Lane.

Tau Beta Cakes Flourished Once, Now Forgotten Sect

By Gil Mark

You can have your Pitkin and Chess and Checker clubs, The Dutch Luncheoners can meet the same day as the Tuesday Nighters for all we care. Take us back to the good old days of the Tappa Kegga Beer and the Tau Beta Cakes.

In 1907 when these organizations held sway, scholarship was a key-note. The Tau Beta Cakes were formed "to mark in a fitting manner those who have conferred honor upon themselves by a grade of scholarship ranging between 11.25 and 11.3.

The Kentucky Trained Home Builders Association of 1913 was even more particular about its members. Perpetual Leap year existed on campus. To enter the annual "Tandem Race" the driver (or girl as she is called today) had to class to the extent of three steady boy-friends.

Scoring Basis
The winner was the contestant who finished the race with the best score on the following points: (a) Attendance at dances (b) popularity at hops, (c) speedy disposition of

Rifle Group Pledges 45

Forty-five members of the basic ROTC course will be initiated into the Pershing Rifles Company C-1 tomorrow night, Captain Carl S. Corbin, company commander, announced.

Initiation will take place at an all-night camp on the Kentucky river, for actives, pledges, and many alumni.

Students pledged to the company last Friday could be identified on campus by their white cotton gloves and their manila ropes, worn in imitation of the Pershing Rifles citation cord, Corbin said.

The new members who will bring the strength of the drill unit to 80 men, are E. G. Fairchild, R. W. Seacore, B. D. Amberg, F. J. Bassett, E. V. Elder, W. H. Helms, F. Saad, G. T. Burke, W. H. Burks, D. J. Case, R. Dorfman, W. B. Gains, A. J. Graves, E. E. Harber, A. L. Howard, H. J. Jones, J. Perlmutter, H. D. Regan, H. W. Simpson, R. Swietnam, K. D. Fagan, D. W. Stanfill, W. D. Grebe, F. Knoop, W. J. Kreutz, T. J. McCrystal, M. Mitchell, E. M. Pullen, J. W. White, D. W. Catron, E. M. Coffman, O. H. Gerald, G. R. Hagan, A. Mander, G. R. Marsh, L. L. McClure, D. Wester, C. H. Wills, E. E. Candill, W. M. Sharp, D. J. Crain, W. H. Usher, G. E. Weeks, C. E. Candill, and D. K. Graham.

Disabled Vets Getting Subsistence Increase

Disabled veterans under Public Law 16 who have formerly been receiving less subsistence per month than veterans under Public Law 346, under the recent subsistence increases will have their payment raised to equal the 346 group's subsistence beginning April 1, according to Maurice Jackson, veteran's advisor.

If a married veteran under P.L. 16 had a 10 percent rating, he would formerly have received $101.20 subsistence allowance and $13.80 compensation, equalling a total of $115.

Under the new ruling, the veteran was eligible for $90.00 subsistence and $13.80 (representing 10 percent disability), and a total of $103.80.

Under the new ruling, the veteran under P.L. 16 will receive $3.80 more per month since VA regulations state that a veteran in training and carrying 12 or more hours under P.L. 16 cannot receive less than veterans in training under P.L. 346.

no-breaks, (d) dates for Sunday morning church, (e) engagements for Sunday night church (this counted three points), and (f) number of times paged at meals.

But not all the clubs had such lofty ideals. The Chain-Swaggers Club founded in 1907, took for their motto—"We find no excellence in great labor." They didn't have a yell because "yelling requires too much exertion." Red and blue chips were the colors.

Patt Hall Serenades

The 1920 "Ever-Empty Wake-Up" made no bones about an aim in life. Their sole object in weekly serenading the Patt Hall girls with mandolins was "grub." Few in number but loud in noise, they claimed they would drink any drink, eat any eats, read any notes, and were expert kiss-snatchers. They had the added advantage of eight p.m. to four a.m. office hours and private chaperones.

To get into the Strollers Dramatic club a person had to perform on Amateur Night which was usually

Tinker Baggerly, Troopers, To Perform

One of six girls will be named beauty queen of the 1948 Kentuckian at Omicron Delta Kappa's semi-formal dance tomorrow night at the SUB ballroom.

Also scheduled for presentation are a "most popular man" and the queen's royal court. The Troopers and Delta Tau Delta will give a command performance for the court during the evening.

Tinker Baggerly's orchestra will play for the dance from 9 p.m. to midnight, immediately following the basketball banquet. Members of the basketball squad and their dates will be guests of honor at the dance.

Coach Adolph Rupp will crown the Kentuckian beauty queen.

Part of the program will be broadcast over WKLV, according to George Barker, ODK president.

Tickets for the affair went on sale at $1 per person last week through fraternities and the Independent organization. The group selling the highest number of tickets will be awarded $25 in records from Barney Miller's. Winner of the "most popular man" contest will receive a sports coat from Graves-Cox.

Candidates for beauty queen are Fawn Grey, Sue Allen, Frances White, Nancy Shinnick, Evelyn Ewing, and Pat Poe.

Most popular man nominees are Sonny Collins, Delta Chi; Don Clark, Lambda Chi Alpha; George Martin, Phi Kappa Tau; Robert Drake, Kappa Sigma; David Hatchett, Alpha Gamma Rho; Charles Whaley, Sigma Phi Epsilon; John Crockett, Sigma Alpha Epsilon; Don Phelps, Independent; R. W. Schlachter, Alpha Sigma Phi.

Claude Sprowls, Alpha Tau Omega; Howard Stephenson, Pi Kappa Alpha; Fred Nichols, Sigma Xi; Bill Griffin, Kappa Alpha; Keith Albright, Triangle; Jay Rhodemyre, Phi Sigma Kappa; Billy Mac Rhoads, Delta Tau Delta; Norman Klein, Zeta Beta Tau; and Wallace Jones, Phi Delta Theta.

Veterans Find Tuition Snarl

Comptroller Frank D. Peterson will explain to veterans why some of them exceed their $500 tuition and fees allowance at a meeting of the Veterans Club April 19.

The question arose during registration when some veterans learned that they owed from $10 to $100 in fees from the last summer term.

The Veterans Administration pays tuition, fees, and equipment costs to $500 for the nine-month school year in addition to subsistence allowances.

The University has a contract with the VA to charge veterans according to the number of hours of work they take. University officials said that this tuition was well under the $500 allowance except for papers students who have increased fees in connection with writing a thesis or music classes.

11 Engineering Students Attend Electrical Meeting

Eleven students and 3 members of the staff of the electrical engineering department left Thursday to attend a three day meeting of the student branch of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers at the University of Tennessee in Knoxville.

Registration for the meeting was held yesterday and the group was entertained at a smoker on the Tennessee campus. Student papers will be presented today, and inspection trips to the Oak Ridge Power Plant, Alcoa Rolling Mill, and Fort Loudon Hydro Project will be conducted this afternoon.

Mr. R. Haageron, head of Allis-Chalmers Industrial relations department will be the guest speaker at a banquet Saturday night. The banquet will be followed by the annual engineers' ball on the UT campus, and dates will be arranged for the delegates.

Members of the electrical engineering staff attending the meeting are Prof. and Mrs. Brinkley Barnett, Prof. and Mrs. E. A. Bureau and H. A. Romanowicz.

Engineering Emblems Mounted In Hall

Bronze reproductions of the emblems of the five parent engineering societies were hung on the west wall of the engineering study hall last week.

The reproductions which were cast in the University machine shop represent the American Society of Mechanical Engineers, the American Society of Civil Engineers, the American Institute of Electrical Engineers, the American Institute of Mining and Metallurgical Engineers, and the American Society of Heating and Ventilating Engineers.

"I think one of these statues should be turned around"

That teachers may think for an instant of the impossibility of attaching a number rating to the content and ability of the human mind; that students will recall how many individuals the teacher has to judge and judge on such meager evidence as a few words spoken haltingly in recitation, a few sentences written hastily under the tense strain of examination. And that, thinking of the other's problems, both will be more lenient in their criticism of the other.

From one who has been receiving or giving grades for many years.

Herbert E. Hall

To the Students:

It is through the constructive force of your Student Government that good government is attained on our campus. It is through this organization, our own laboratory in democracy, that students learn the example of how citizens of a state should work together for the purpose of establishing a better social order. In the same light, students at the University need to give a lot of attention and thought to how life on the campus can be made richer and finer.

It is the purpose of the Student Government to act as the responsible authority in relations among students and among student organizations. It is further the purpose of this group to act jointly with the University faculty in matters affecting common interests, and to promote projects that are of interest to the student body.

The ways of democracy can be taught on the campus of a university if those who are interested in learning how to be good citizens will assume obligations and responsibilities with the same enthusiasm that they champion their rights and privileges. Let me urge you now, each of you, to take a more active interest in your Student Government—in its endeavors and in its meetings.

Distinctly we are not here, I hope merely to gain the smartness required to beat other men. One does not have to go to college for that. In fact, it can be learned better outside college where the real specialists in acquisition are to be found.

I hope that students will think of their growing knowledge and skill always in relation to their duty to the community. It would be terribly lonesome to know how to do something well only for the purpose of advancing a personal interest and to get ahead of someone else.

In time many of us shall become scientists or engineers or humanists or economists. What the University can do for us is of no lasting importance if we do not learn that citizenship comes first in our crowded world. No man can enjoy the privileges of education and thereafter with a clear conscience break his contract with society. To respect that contract is to be mature; to strengthen it is to be a good citizen.

Finally, let me thank you for your cooperation and help during my tenure of office. During the last year the Student Government Assembly has endeavored to make SGA a progressive organization, and to build it to its rightful place as the leader of all campus organizations. To the Assembly, the faculty advisors, the Kernel, cooperating organizations, and those of the Administration who have worked with SGA, my thanks. I hope that our record this past year is one of which the student body may be proud.

CLAUDE S. SPROWLS,

SGA President.

The Spice Of Life

By Helen Dorr and Pat Quinn

Seems like everybody recovered from skipping classes after last Friday's big celebration just in time to start all over again to go to the races. It was quite a parade. The best touch of all was that supplied by the boys from the tavern.

One of the newest Kentucky Colonels, Joe Holland, got a key to the city Friday morning and a parking ticket Friday afternoon.

Another, Jim Line, is on the loose again. His old flame, Martha Harmon, is currently dating another Sig Ep.

Twice a year for two weeks, the students give up reading the comic strips to read their old stand-by, the racing form. What would we do without Keeneland?

What's this we hear about John Irvin and Betty Wiley going out to the track at 6 a.m. to watch the horses practice. We thought it would take an earthquake to get anybody up that early.

Last Friday's celebration lasted all day, but one of the most interesting things that happened, seems to have been the sensation "Little Bit" Carter caused that afternoon.

The Lambda Chi gave up reading the comic strips a little earlier than most students. The change in their reading habits was caused by the discovery of a new humor magazine.

The Bill Noe-Nancy Hurst combination is much fun to listen to. By the way, Bill, did you ever find out why she called you "Colonel" Noe?

Buzz Holder brought Pat Markwell (from Guilford College) to the Elliott Lawrence dance. She really knocked some of the boys for a loop. Too bad she doesn't go to school here, or Buzz would have much competition.

And speaking of the Elliott Lawrence dance, Sandy Morgan looked very pretty. Our Kentucky weather must agree with her.

Chick Phillips is very unhappy since Bonnie Bohannon dropped out of school. How can he survive with Bonnie in Florida?

Bob Kinchloe is a little worse off than most of the boys. He has two unknown flames. The only clue to their identity is that one of them is a Kappa and the other a Theta.

No torch carrying for Jim Hendricks. He's looking for a new girl. Mary Alice Mayer is currently dating Bill Pettit. Does that leave John out in the cold for good?

One of the new romances which has a good chance of holding out is that of Sally Branch and Bob Drury.

Helen Deiss seems to have decided on Dick Gillespie as her Spring quarter favorite. At least the SAE's think so.

Bob Gregory and Weston Jayne are still going strong.

Frank Bryson has spring fever and it's all because of Glenna Wadell.

Why did Bill Hockensmith fly to Texas?

Again—who is the Kentuckian queen?

COLONEL Of The Week

Colonel of the Week for this week is Walter W. Atton, mechanical engineering senior from Lexington.

He is a member of Omicron Delta Kappa, national leadership society; president of Tau Beta Pi, Engineering honorary; Pi Tau Sigma, mechanical engineering society; Sigma Pi Sigma, physics honorary; president of Triangle fraternity and a member of the Student Branch of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers, the Interfraternity Council, and the staff of the Kentucky Engineer.

Formerly editor of the Kentucky Engineer and treasurer of the ASME group, Walter is listed in "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities" and in "Great Greeks of the American Campus."

For these achievements, the Stirrup Cup invites Walter to enjoy any two of its delicious meals.

Letters To The Editor

Editor, The Kernel:

On registration day when my husband enrolled he was told that he owed $30 because he had overdrawn the allotted amount of the pro rata system in effect last summer. On further investigation it was discovered that several hundred other students had to pay sums ranging from one dollar to well over a hundred dollars before they could register for the Spring quarter. The summer pro rata system is a VA regulation of which very few of the students were aware. This rule puts a limit on the expenditures that can be made in the summer — having no relation to the overall limit of $500.

The University auditor with whom my husband spoke deeply sympathized, said that the University has sent in a protest to the National VA, and most important explained that the University was unaware of the ruling itself until three weeks ago.

My point in writing this letter is to express the opinion that I believe that the administration has a duty to the GI student to keep him informed of VA rules and regulations, major and minor. I understand that the rules are tremendous in bulk; the offending rule was probably but a short paragraph among thousands. But I believe the University has a responsibility to do for the student what he cannot do for himself. If the University does not ferret out the important regulations and make them known, the position of the GI enrollee will ever be insecure.

Sincerely

to the picture that I wish to bring out, especially here where every department seems to have a different interpretation of what is meant by an "A" or a "C". What is an "A"? Is it a comparison; how one person's work compares with the others in his class; or how his work compares with other students of the same subject, at the same level, throughout the country; or is it, unfortunately, too many times a comparison with some professor's vague idea of what perfection would be if he ever saw it.

The truly great teachers of humanity did not give grades. Christ did not give Simon Peter an "A" and Judas a "D". He let their lives speak of their success or failure. The Greek Philosophers didn't hand out Phi Beta Kappa keys to those who understood and followed their teachings or fail to pass those who didn't, they either became leaders or were forgotten so they were graded by life not by man. Roger Bacon felt rewarded by the light of understanding in the eyes of those who could follow his first steps upon the road of scientific thought and only sadness and a sense of failure that there were so many who were blind.

I'm sure every honest teacher will agree with me, that the giving of grades to students work is the greatest cross they have to bear, just as I am virtually certain that every student feels, with me, that it is our greatest burden.

I have only one hope, in writing this, that both students and teachers may remember for a moment the difficulties of the other's position.

Where ya partyin' tonight?

Why, Joyland, of course.

Jim Cherry Receives Freshman Award

Jim Cherry, sophomore in the College of Arts and Sciences, has been awarded the Phi Beta Kappa chapter's annual Freshman Book Award, according to Dr. Paul O. Ritcher, faculty advisor.

The award is made each year to the Arts and Sciences freshman who achieves the highest scholastic standing in his class and remains enrolled in the sophomore year. It entitles the winner to receive $25.00 worth of books of his choice.

The Marion County student from Gravel Switch made a near-perfect standing of 29 for the freshman year. The award will be presented at a special convocation later this year, Dr. Ritcher said.

"Oh, doctor," said the young lady, "will the scar show?"
"That madam," said the doctor, "is entirely up to you."

He: "I can't see what keeps girls from freezing."
She: "You're not suppose to."
Bewildered driver: "I wish Emily Post were here with us — I took the wrong fork."

Newspaper Clippings Reveal Forgotten Facts About UK

By William E. Schupp
While in the library the other evening I came upon some old newspaper clippings. Upon observation I found that they were articles concerning the University and containing many interesting facts that I had never heard mentioned before. Did you know:

That the Administration Building at one time housed a chapel and part of the engineering school?

That White Hall was formerly a boys dormitory, and opposite this was a combination mess hall (as it was known in those days) and dormitory now known as Neville Hall?

That under the floor of the gym there was a swimming pool?

That the University had at one time a Department of Veterinary Science?

That the old cannon in front of the Administration Building was once in the city dump?

That the infirmary was the home of the Chemistry Department and College of Law?

That the Administration Building was the first one erected on the campus. The architects bill amounted to $1891.50.

That the school cafeteria was located in the third floor of McVey Hall before the Student Union Building was completed.

That a spring house was on the site of the present Botanical Gardens and the students gathered there for their drinking water.

English Prof.: "Correct this sentence, 'Girls is naturally better looking than boys.'"

English Stud.: "Girls is artificially better looking than boys."

Webster says that taut means tight. I guess the guys in colleges are taught a lot after all.

Championship Events Of Speech Festival Being Held Today

The championship events of the Kentucky High School Speech Festival will be held at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon in Memorial Hall.

The festival, which began Wednesday, is an annual event sponsored by the University Extension Department. More than 67 schools throughout the state are represented.

Events on the four day program include debate, discussion, interpretation, poetry reading, oratorical declamation, extemporaneous speaking, and dramatic reading.

Louis Clifton, director of the Extension Department, said that three new trophies will be awarded this year to the top schools in the small, medium and large classifications. This will avoid the necessity of small schools competing with large ones. Five trophies, speech pins to those meeting certain requirements, and gold keys to championship debaters will be presented.

A reception and a special program for the participants and their chaperones will be held in the Bluegrass Room of the Student Union Building at 7:30 p.m. tonight.

Among the judges for the festival are Miss Lydia Back, Stevens College, Columbia, Mo.; Dean W. J. Moore, Eastern State College; Maurice D. Bement, executive secretary of the Committee for Kentucky; Dr. J. Reid Sterrett, associate professor of English, and Prof. Wallace Briggs, acting director of Guignol theater.

ALUMNI NEWS

THEN and NOW

PERSONALITIES

A. D. Bosley, '16, of Indianapolis, president of the A. D. Bosley Company, visited the alumni office last week.

Mr. Bosley received his degree from the College of Agriculture and Forestry in the sciences, and has followed this work in his professional career, his company being devoted to the manufacture of insecticides for food processing industries. Prior to opening his own business, Mr. Bosley had been in the educational field having served as a school superintendent.

The Indianapolis alumnus plans to contact other former UK students in the Indiana city for the purpose of organizing an alumni group there. Any alumni interested in forming an organization are urged to contact Mr. Bosley.

John H. Gray, '22, of Boyle county, has been named assistant county agent in Laurel county and Mrs. Florence H. Jones, '46, has been named home demonstration agent by the Laurel county fiscal court.

Mr. Gray has been working in Fulton county and assumed his duties in London on March 17. Mrs. Jones was formerly employed by the London office of the Farm Security Administration and took over her work in the County Agent's office on April first.

Horace N. Davis Jr., '39, of Lexington has been awarded a doctor of veterinary science by Ohio State university. He received the bachelor of science degree in agriculture from the University of Kentucky.

Thomas F. Ott, '37, Long Beach, Calif., was a visitor on the campus last week, renewing acquaintances and bringing himself "up-to-date" on the progress of his alma mater. Mr. Ott's California address is Pacific Coast club, 850 E. Ocean, Long Beach.

Dr. William S. Taylor, '12, dean of the University College of Education, has been elected vice president of the American Association of Colleges for Teacher Education.

One of the relatively few electronic test scoring machines in operation in the country is used by Jack Baker, '40, test assistant in the University personnel office, to give a quick and virtually fool-proof report on entrance tests.

Glenn Clay, '41, of Carlisle, has been named assistant county agent in Jefferson county for the agricultural extension service of the University. He will supervise the 4-H Club work in that county.

Pay Sausley, former University student from Lexington has been elected president of the Lexington Pyramid club.

Katherine Best, '29, formerly of Lexington, who recently completed a four-month writing assignment trip to Sweden and England, is now in the west on a special assignment for material for articles for Country Gentleman, McCall's and other national publications.

Ray C. Hopper, '27, formerly Warren county farm agent at Bowling Green, has been named a field agent in animal husbandry at the University of Kentucky.

T. George Harris of Trenton, Ky., former University student now at Yale university has been awarded a scholarship to Silliman College, Oxford University in England, to study there this summer. He is studying journalism.

Randy Brooks To Play Here

Randy Brooks, his golden trumpet and his orchestra, will be featured at the annual Interfraternity dance from 9 to 12 p.m. April 24 in the Bluegrass Room of the SUB.

Coming directly from the east where he scored an overnight sensation with his band, Brooks placed third in the Downbeat magazine popularity poll, bowing only to Stan Kenton and Duke Ellington.

Tickets for the dance may be obtained from any council member.

The members had a gay time, what with painting the town various colors every time they wanted to announce a new play. Fun was curtailed however when the whole organization was thrown into jail because of a Lexington ordinance forbidding painting city property.

Hazing

Fellows who think today's Hell Week is in plain language "heck" should be thankful they didn't come to school at the time of the "Most High Senior Court". A freshman was eligible to appear before the court for sentence if he walked with a girl on campus, didn't tip his hat to a senior or broke a senior at a dance. Punishments ranged from paddling to curtailment of dating privileges.

The existence of the Brevity Club was short. It was founded and disbanded in 1909 and consisted of students whose height did not exceed five feet five inches.

Madison Square Garden Has Colorful History

By Tom Diskin

Each March for the past four years, the Wildcats of Kentucky have traveled to New York City where they competed in post-season basketball tournaments. In 1945 and 1947 the Blue and White played in the Invitational, while in 1945 and again last month the Champion Cats participated in the NCAA meet.

Scene of these outstanding tournaments is a $5,600,000 emporium called Madison Square Garden. This huge arena is the third in a series of "Gardens" dating back to 1879, when the first one was constructed.

In 1890 the second Madison Square Garden was built and its board of directors consisted of J. P. Morgan, P. T. Barnum, and Darius Mills.

The present sports mecca was constructed in 1925, largely through the efforts of the colorful Tex Rickard, a well-known gentleman, gambler and promoter of this era, and John Ringling, the circus magnate. Today it is operated by the Madison Square Garden Corporation, headed by Col. John Kilpatrick.

For 22 years the arena has been bringing to New York outstanding shows, contests and exhibitions despite some lean years back in the early 1930's.

From early October to late May Madison Square Garden is rarely empty.

It has a capacity of 18,903 persons for basketball games. A crowd of 15,500 can be held for hockey and some 14,500 for the six-day bicycle races.

Professional ice hockey is one of the most profitable events, bringing in a $700,000 gate each year. The Ringling Brothers-Barnum & Bailey circus pay a flat rate of $100,000 for 27 days each spring to the Garden. The price charged for most public meetings range from $3500 per night (on week days) to $5000 (on Saturday and Sunday).

Brine flowing through thirteen miles of pipe under the floor can freeze the rink for hockey in eight hours. When a circus or rodeo comes there, the animals are housed in the basement and the management collects a substantial rent fee as a result.

Besides basketball, hockey, circuses, and rodeos, many other events are held in the Garden each year. Other attractions brought there are dog shows, tennis matches, track meets, trade exhibitions, horse shows, prize fights, national political conventions, charity benefits, and six-day bike races.

When the circus elephants lumber from the Eighth avenue arena this May, it will mark the close of another season for the Garden, which then goes dark for four months. Then New York becomes quieter and less colorful.

CAPTAINS FOR WHITE TEAM
Norm Klein right, a hard-running fullback from Louisville, and Len Preston, above, will captain the Whites. Preston is also from Louisville, weighs 260 pounds and plays guard. Both are seniors.

Baseball Team To Play Transylvania On Tuesday

The Wildcat baseball team, washed out of their playing field three times this week by rain, have had only four days of batting practice this year, hardly enough to terrorize Vanderbilt and Georgia Tech pitchers, who have been under a hot southern sun for six weeks.

Coach Settle, shouting above the din of sparring on Alumni Gym roof, explained, "We had to cancel those two games down in Atlanta with Georgia Tech this weekend. Beard, Stough, Jones and Barker couldn't make the trip because of a banquet Saturday night, and we aren't ready, yet. Hirsch has a nice batting stance, looks like a real power hitter, but we just have not had enough batting practice to get our timing down, yet."

A practice game with Transylvania baseball team is to be played Tuesday in preparation for the Wildcat's Southeastern Conference opener with Vanderbilt next Friday and Saturday.

Ralph Beard, through with baseball and dying to get started in basketball, appeared early at Monday's practice with Johnny Stough, pounding new gloves found in New York, and raring to go. With Beard and Stough in the middle, T. Laudeman on first base, and John Crosswaite at third, the Wildcats have a pretty classy infield. Stough goes far, to either his left or right with the grace of the Cardinals' Marty Marion, while Beard scrambles around second base, stabs at the ball and rifles it to first with amazing accuracy.

Beard hit the ball very well for his first day, connecting for long hits after backing away from the first two or three pitches with, "Boy, Hatchett can throw that thing."

Wah Jones, 3-0 winner last year, appeared briefly this week, to loosen up his arm a little. Brooklyn scout Frank Rickey, brother of the Dodge President, visited Legion Field Monday. He came to look over three players and was favorably impressed. He said he would drop by and see three or four games later on this year. An intrasquad game is scheduled to be played Saturday.

Over 15,000 Kentuckians Welcome Home Wildcats

By Stanley J. Schill

Since the Cats took the National Collegiate championship, events have been occurring thick and fast around Central Kentucky.

It all started last Friday when the city of Lexington suddenly realized that it is the home of the greatest college quintet in the history of basketball. The thought came with an awakening shock, and the town's population turned out en masse to do the team honor last Friday.

The train on which the boys journeyed down from New York arrived almost an hour and a half late as residents of Winchester and Mount Sterling decided that Lexington did not have a moratorium on welcomes. The train was stopped at both places so that the citizenry could pay their respects.

Finally, with whistles blowing and bells ringing, the Cat-laden George Washington train arrived at Union Station.

From there on no one person could relate all that happened. However, during the course of events, the trophies were exhibited, all the members of the team and coaching staff that were present delivered speeches, and the heroes were awarded commissions as Colonels on the Governor's staff.

Since then the team has been feted royally.

Last Monday night the Junior Chamber of Commerce gave a banquet for the boys at which Harry Wismer, sports director of the American Broadcasting Company, the main speaker, called them an inspiration to high school boys throughout the country.

Tomorrow night they will be guests of honor at an alumni banquet in the SUB, and Monday night, they will be addressed by Dr. Forrest (Phog) Allen, Baron Rupp's former mentor at the University of Kansas, at a banquet in the Lafayette Hotel.

Vandy, Miami Golfers Here

By Tom Underwood

Kentucky's golfing Wildcats have a busy weekend planned starting with Vanderbilt, whom they meet on the Country Club course this afternoon. The Commodores traditionally turn out one of the toughest link squads in the Southeastern Conference.

Miami, of Oxford, Ohio, is scheduled to furnish the opposition when the Wildcats play the fourth and final match of their current home stand here Saturday.

Kentucky outpointed Western Michigan, 13-5, last week to even their season's record at a win and a loss. On a lightning invasion of the South, the Kalamazoo quartet had proved their skill by trimming Tennessee, 10-8, the day before they tangled with Kentucky.

UK's No. 1 man Johnny Owens took medal honors with a 74, but putting artist Marvin Lear turned in the outstanding performance of the day. Lear canned a 20-footer for a far on No. 16 and added a birdie putt on the last hole with match points riding on both shots.

Paired with Owens, UK golfer Bud Lewis capitalized on consistency to win his individual match. Ray Colton, fourth member of the Wildcat squad, turned in a creditable first start although he lost his individual match. Coach Frank Atkins will use the same Kentucky foursome in today's match.

oval setting up a solid mist on all sides. The only men that emerged from the practice with anything resembling clean outfits, were the ones that stayed in front all the way.

Track Team Meets Marshall Saturday

By Winfield Leathers

Kentucky's varsity track and field team opens its dual-meet season tomorrow afternoon at 2 p.m. on the UK oval when it plays host to the Marshall College thrills of Huntington, W. Va. Next Saturday, Vanderbilt University, of Nashville, Tenn., comes to Lexington for a clash with Coach Don (Cash) Seaton's Wildcats.

The UK harriers are relatively inexperienced as far as previous competition this season is concerned. Kentucky's only encounter to date resulted in a pointless showing at the Purdue Relays (Lafayette, Ind.) two weeks ago. Coach Seaton entered only six men in this meet.

Practice has been hampered a great deal this spring, particularly so during the past week, when the "April Showers" tradition proved to be a reality. The time trials for the Wildcats, originally slated for Wednesday afternoon, resulted in a minor water festival as all but one end of the track was under two inches of water.

Wednesday's workout was quite a sight to see, and rather pretty if you like water sprays. The 440-men created quite a spectacle as they raced neck and neck around the

Many Theoretical and Applied Studies Behind Development of "Cordura" Rayon

Stronger, lighter tires made possible by teamwork of Du Pont chemists, engineers, and physicists

On the surface, the viscose process for rayon seems fairly simple. Cellulose from cotton or wood is steeped in NaOH to give alkali cellulose, which is treated with CS₂ to form cellulose xanthate. Adding NaOH gives molasses-like "viscose," which is squirted through spinnerets into a coagulating bath of acid and salt to form from 500 to 1,000 filaments simultaneously:

Du Pont scientists were working to improve on the properties of rayon made by this process when, in 1928, a rubber company asked for a rayon yarn that would be stronger than cotton for tire cords. The problem was given to a team of organic, physical, and analytical chemists, chemical and mechanical engineers, and physicists.

Theoretical and Applied Studies

In developing the new improved rayon, a number of theoretical studies were carried out: for example, (1) rates of diffusion of the coagulating bath into the viscose filaments, (2) the mechanism of coagulation of viscose, (3) the relationship between fiber structure and properties by x-rays, and (4) a phase study of spinning baths.

Concurrently, applied research was necessary. This proceeded along many lines, but the main problem was to perfect the spinning technique. It was known that a short delay in the bath between the spinneret and the stretching operation allowed greater tension on the filaments. Du Pont engineers, therefore, designed a series of rollers, each revolving faster than the previous one, to increase the tension gradually.

In addition, a textile finish was developed that combined just the right amount of plasticizing action and lubricating power, allowing the filaments to twist evenly in forming the cord. A new adhesive was prepared to join the yarn with rubber. New twisting techniques for cord manufacture were found, since the usual methods caused loss in rayon strength.

Engineering Problems Solved

Chemical and mechanical engineers were faced with the design and operation of equipment for more than 15 different types of unit operations. Equipment had to operate every minute of the day, yet turn out perfectly uniform yarn. It was necessary to filter the viscose so carefully that it would pass through spinning jet holes less than 4/1000th of an inch without plugging. Some of the most exacting temperature and humidity control applications in the chemical industry were required.

Out of this cooperation among scientists—ranging from studies of cellulose as a high polymer to design of enormous plants—came a new product, "Cordura" high-tensile rayon, as strong as mild steel, yet able to stand up under repeated flexing. Today, this yarn is almost 100% stronger than 20 years ago. Tires made with it are less bulky and cooler running, yet give greater mileage under the most punishing operating conditions. In "Cordura," men of Du Pont have made one of their most important contributions to the automotive industry.

Intramurals

By W. T. Perkins

Final matches in Bill McCubbin's annual intramural wrestling championships of the University of Kentucky, were held at Alumni Gym with the Alpha Gamma Rho fraternity capturing the team trophy. The winning AGR team amassed 24 points for a margin of seven over Delta Tau Delta and Sigma Alpha Epsilon, who shared runner-up honors with 17 points each.

The featured heavyweight tussle was won by Bill Chambers, Independent, over Harry Gorham, Sigma Chi, in one minute 10 seconds. The championship trophy was awarded to AGR, while the Deits and SAE's received duplicate runner-up trophies. Individual key chain charms in gold and silver went to the winners and runners-up in the various divisions.

Results and times follow:

115 lbs.—Street, AGR, over Roult, SAE, in 2:40.

125 lbs.—Montgomery, FSK, over Wood, PSK, in 2:18.

135 lbs.—Gulley, AGR, over Graham, SX, in :46.

145 lbs.—King, KS, over Brady, PDT, decision.

155 lbs.—Shouse, SAE, pinned Craft, LXA, 3:35.

165 lbs.—Beam, DTD, pinned Coulton, AGR, :42.

175 lbs.—Beyerl, AGR, pinned Ham-mack, PKT, 4:41.

Heavyweight — Chambers, Ind. pinned Gorham, SX, 1:10.

Softball

Intramural softball took a back seat to the weather this week as only one game marked the start of the season. Sigma Nu came through in the last half of the sixth inning to defeat Tipplers (an independent team, by 3 to 2).

Mayhugh contributed the game winning 3rd run by blasting out a homer in the lower part of the overtime sixth inning.

Defensive ball playing held the score down to two all at the close of the regulation fifth inning.

Sigma Nu — 0 1 0 1 0 1—3

Battery: SN, Schmidt and Lang.

Tipplers, Stokely and Kerley.

KS won by forfeit over Scott Street Barracks.

The inclement weather has forced several games to be postponed. Dates of the rescheduled contests will be posted in Alumni Gym early next week.

Three IM Softball Leagues

The Intramural softball program has been divided into three leagues or divisions consisting of eight teams each.

Division 1: ATO, KS, Tipplers, SN, Scott Street Barracks, PKT, DX and PKA.

Division 2: SX, SPE, Bradley Hall, LXA, ASP, AGR, Hornets, and KA.

Division 3: PDT, DTD, Triangles, ZBT, SAE, Kinkead Hall, PSK and the Hustlers.

Redlegs Play Here Thursday

The Cincinnati Reds will make their first Lexington appearance in two years next Thursday afternoon at 2 p.m., when they play an exhibition game with the Syracuse Chiefs Of the International League. That contest, sponsored by the Co-operative Club, will be held at American Legion park.

The Reds will arrive in Lexington at 10 a.m. Thursday from Roanoke, Va., will be quartered at the Lafayette hotel, and plan to depart for Cincinnati around 7:05 via the Southern Railroad, Thursday evening.

A full house will probably be on hand to witness the game which will feature such baseball stars as Grady Hatton, a former University of Texas athlete, Augie Galan, a 314 hit-ter for the Reds last year, Johnny Vander Meer of no-hit fame, in addition to several promising rookies.

Ewell Blackwell might possibly start the game for the Redlegs since the opening game of the season is the following Tuesday and

City Golf Champion Paces UK Niblickers

By Tom Underwood Jr.

"How'd you shoot today, John?" "Aw, it was awful," Owens groaned.

"About 74, huh?" Like Coach Rupp, UK golfer Johnny Owens is never quite satisfied, which turns out to be a unique element of his success. Those of us who stay in the duffer class from season to season would give three of Uncle's checks for that 74 and then hang up our niblicks for the year, but if it had been a 64 Owens would still be trying to figure out a way to improve.

One day the kids in their swim suits were watching Johnny tee off on a par three water hole at the Country Club. His lofty pitch caught a corner of the green 146 yards away landing some 20 feet from the pin. In disgust he threw down another ball and hit it.

This one kicked once, and rolled dead within three feet of the pin. Again Owens teed off. This one missed the pin several inches and stopped for a jimmie deuce. Said Owens, "Boy, I just can't hit the ball today!"

Wins 95 Out Of 100 Matches

John is changing his swing completely as well as experimenting with a new putter this spring, although last year's swing and putter enabled him to complete 90 holes, 17 strokes under par to win the Lexington city title. He won all the other Kentucky amateur tournaments he entered except two and lost only five in over one hundred matches he played during the season.

In winning 16 of 19 individual matches for the Wildcat golf team last year, Owens contributed largely to their record of 17 wins, one tie, and a lone defeat. Playing in the No. 1 spot, he was called on invariably to throttle the opposition's toughest customer.

It is on a strange layout, against an opponent who has all the advantages of knowing the course, that Owens' greatest golfing asset, his hitting power, unleashes his long arms and rifles the sphere out far enough to overcome any difficulty of unfamiliarity with locale. Last year Kentucky was playing Tennessee there, and Owens cannoned his second shot onto the green of a five par hole—just 619 yards from the tee. On the home course particularly, Owens combines his power with approaching accuracy and uncanny putting ability.

Strangely, perhaps, this combination hasn't yet brought Owens the

Johnny Owens

Country Club record. That belongs to a fellow named Sammy Snead, who toured the layout in 63 strokes, nine under par, one hot July afternoon several years ago. Owens is second in line with a 64.

Finished Second In State Meet

This build-up isn't meant to infer that John spends his summers adding effortlessly to his trophy collection. Perhaps the bitterest disappointment of his life came when his putter went sour in the finals of the State amateur tournament last year and he lost to Louisville Bud Schweri.

Since then the tall, lanky linksman has been smoothing out the flaws in his game with patient confidence, determined to be at his

Frosh Track Team Defeats MMI, 95-30

By Winfield Leathers

With Harold Ziegler, Port Thomas, notching 16 1/4 points for individual scoring laurels, Kentucky's freshman track and field squad opened local cinder competition Monday afternoon on the UK turf by easily defeating the varsity harriers from Millersburg Military Institute, 95-30.

Ziegler compiled his points by winning three events—broad jump, high jump and pole vault—and running the third lap on the winning mile-relay team. Pressing the Port Thomas lad for individual honors was Bob Fraiman, Brooklyn, N.Y., who also captured three firsts—the 440, 880, and the javelin throw—for a 15-marker total.

UK's freshman team won 13 out of 14 events, claimed nine seconds and three thirds. MMI's only victory came in the 220-yard low hurdles, in which the visitors ran but 200 yards (high school regulations) peak at this year's state amateur which will be played over Louisville's Big Springs course in June. Later Johnny plans to enter other Kentucky events including the State Open. Then there's the tournament he would like best to be in, the National Amateur, to be held at Memphis in August. To qualify for this Kentucky Derby of golf, Owens must outshoot the most polished linksmen of several states in an elimination round at Cincinnati. Perhaps this is Derby year for Owens.

SPORTS

By Tom Diskin

Football Coach Paul Bryant is to be commended for bringing to UK a pair of the greatest football players of recent times to lecture in the coaching clinic held here last Friday and Saturday.

One of the men was Don Hutson, who starred at Alabama and later with the Green Bay Packers, and who is now the end coach with the latter team. The second great was Otto Graham, a former All-American football and basketball player at Northwestern, now quarterback of the champion Cleveland Browns pro eleven. He is considered one of the best passers in the sport today.

We were fortunate enough to meet and talk with Don Hutson, who has broken 19 football records and is considered almost unanimously as the greatest end in the history of the grid game.

The soft-spoken, brown-haired Hutson hails from Pine Bluff, Ark., which is about 40 miles north of Fordyce, birthplace of Coach Bryant. Hutson didn't become interested in football until he was a senior in high school. Don then went out for the team and made the starting eleven despite the fact that he was in his last year in school and had no previous football coaching to help him. Hutson also competed in basketball, track and baseball while at Pine Bluff High.

As a senior, his football team played against Fordyce High School and he recalls that Bryant "was quite an outstanding player." Both athletes later decided to cast their lots at the University of Alabama, much to the pleasure of Frank Thomas, then head coach of the Tide.

At Bama, Hutson played plenty of football, as records will show, in addition to "a little track and baseball."

Shipwreck Kelly was the best football player for Kentucky around this period. Hutson, however, never played against Kelly, for he was just a freshman when Shipwreck, then in his last season, invaded Alabama in 1931. The Wildcats were set back that day, 9-7, at Tuscaloosa.

The former Alabama great remembered Still Field very well for it was here in 1932 that he, as a sophomore, first broke into a game for any length of time. After the contest with Kentucky, Hutson rose rapidly in the football spotlight. Bama won that year, nosing out the Cats, 12-7. As a junior, Hutson led the Tide to a 20-0 win over Kentucky and in 1934, Dixie Howell, Don Hutson and Paul Bryant teamed up to whip UK, 34-14. That was Don's final season. Bryant was then a junior on the Alabama eleven.

Hutson, who is certainly a credit to professional football, made quite an impression on all who met him here for his genuine friendliness and cooperation.

According to 35-year-old Don Hutson, the Green Bay Packers professional organization is anxious to have Kentucky's All-SEC center of last season, Jay Rhodemyre, join them for the coming campaign. It is believed, however, that Rhodemyre has decided against playing pro football.

Olympic Cagers To Depart From New York On July 14

Coach Adolph Rupp and the first five players on Kentucky's greatest team in history, namely Ralph Beard, Ken Rollins, Alex Groza, Wah Wah Jones and Cliff Barker, will leave from New York City July 14 on the SS America bound for London and the Olympics.

Although the Olympic Games will start July 29, the basketball tournament among the countries of the world will not get underway until August 6. The Olympic program and the cage tournament will continue until August 14.

A drive is now being conducted in Lexington in an effort to raise a special fund in order to send, in addition to the starting five Kentucky players mentioned above, two or three more Wildcat cagers who have merited the trip by their performances of the past season.

Two Games Carded With Oilers
The Kentucky cage coach has agreed to play the Phillips Oilers of Bartlesville, Okla., two games this summer in order to raise additional funds for the Olympic trip. A third game between these two champion teams might be arranged later.

The first game of the summer series will be played on Saturday, July 3, at Bartlesville, Okla., on an open-air court. The second will be held in Lexington or Lexington on Saturday, July 10. An effort is being made to have the Louisville

If Weather Clears, Intrasquad Football Game Goes On Tonight

By Dudley Saunders

The weatherman predicted rain for today and Saturday and Paul Bryant predicted that the annual football intrasquad game, originally scheduled for tonight, might not be played until the Fourth of July, if the rain continues to fall. Bryant flatly stated yesterday that for obvious reasons the game would not be played until the field is dry.

However, if the weather suddenly clears and the sun dries the field, several thousand gridiron fans will sit in on a sneak preview of the 1948 Kentucky Wildcats tonight at Still field as the boys choose up sides and battle it out in the annual Blue-White game. Head coach Paul Bryant will sit in the stands and let his assistants do the coaching.

The starting lineup for the Xavier game next September 25 might very well hinge on the performance turned in tonight. The game should develop into a more spirited and hard-fought bout than intrasquad games usually are. Several new men will have their first opportunity to prove their mettle, and many of last season's reserves are still no hand to fight it out for several positions made vacant by graduation losses.

Coaching the Blue team will be Frank Moseley, Mike Baltaris and Joe Atkinson.

Carney Lasie, Clarence Underwood and Ernal Allen will direct the White squad.

The only four seniors on the squad have been named to captain the teams. Quarterback George Blanda and tackle Doc Ferrell will co-captain the Blues and fullback Norman Klein and guard Len Preston will direct the Whites. Blanda is the only one of the seniors that hasn't seen considerable action during the spring practice, due to an injured hand. The White line will hold a slight weight advantage, outweighing the Blues 196 pounds to 190 per man. However, the Blues will hold a definite advantage in the backfield. The Blue backfield averages 182 pounds and the White starting backs 170.

Both teams will start nine varsity lettermen, although the Whites have 13 lettermen on their squad compared to 12 for the Blues.

Not seeing action on the squad are Harry Ulinski, the probable starting center next fall, Don Phelps, Ralph Genito and John Chumley. Ulinski is still recuperating from a knee operation and the other three are laying out of heavy work in order to take part in track.

Undoubtedly several of the starting berths for the contest were awarded by virtue of how some of the players showed up in a special scrimmage held last Saturday afternoon as a climax to the annual coaching clinic.

Bryant expressed great satisfaction at the "coming out" of Carl Genito. Bryant has worked with the Duquesne, Pa., sophomore all spring to groom him to understudy Blanda in the fall and to eventually take over his place in his junior and senior years. Genito turned in a polished performance, completing many passes, handling the ball well, and to top it off, tore off several nice gains carrying the ball.

Others particularly impressive in that scrimmage were Bill Boller and Shorty Jemerson at left half, Jim Howe and Dick Martin at right half and Norman Klein at both the fullback and the right half berths.

Lee Truman came through with several nice runs from fullback.

Little Jerry Claiborne caught several passes running from the left end, and in general played a good game, as did Don Frampton at the other terminal.

In forward wall Giant Bob Gain, Wendell Vance, Bob Wodtke and Bob Pope played their consistently good game.

Tickets for the game will be on sale at the gate, priced at $1 for townspeople and $50 for students. Student books are not honored at this game.

Probable starting lineups:

Blue		White
Zaranka	LE	J. Claiborne	LE
Ferrell	LT	Gain	LT
Holway	LG	Preston	LG
Wodtke	C	Rogers	C
Porter	RG	Dawson	RG

Jones	QB	G. Genito	QB
Boller	LH	Jamerson	LH
Martin	RH	Howe	RH
Truman	FB	Klein or Webb	FB

University Netters Weather Still Plagues

The UK tennis team, plagued by spring rains and the lack of all-weather courts, will wade into their first encounter next week with Western, with all the court familiarity of the Duke of Windsor.

Last Sunday the team got in a whole day of good practice for the first time this year.

Dick Meadows, number four man on the tennis team two years ago, is back this season and will probably be placed in the number one match, by Coach Ray Durham.

Flashy Danny Dickerson, who won only four matches last year, losing to such college Goliaths as Notre Dame's Every, and Centre's Hoppe, might be moved to second man this year.

Bob Collins, number four man last year, and who is just recovering from some teeth trouble, got in a few swings last Sunday for the first time this spring.
